HUNT FOR BOY INTENSIFIED BY POSSE

Fears Felt Child May Be Drowned; Check Is Made On Parked Truck

The search today, in response to suggestion by the missing boy's parents, was covering the hillside environs of Camp Sacramento, it was learned early this afternoon. Thursday, a second detailed search of the river in the vicinity is scheduled if today's hunt fails of results.

The search for five-year-old Clarence Murphy, Jr., of Sacramento, who disappeared Monday morning from Camp Sacramento, forty miles east of Placerville on U. S. Route 50, was intensified Wednesday morning.

Poses, formed Monday, had failed to find any trace of the child either Monday or Tuesday.

Forest Supervisor Edwin F. Smith went to Camp Sacramento Wednesday morning to confer with Ranger M. D. Morris, of Pacific District, who was in charge of the search.

County officials, dividing their interest between their regular duties, checking up on the whereabouts of an escaped prisoner, and the search for the missing boy, were keeping in touch with the posse at Camp Sacramento and District Attorney Henry S. Lyon said shortly before Wednesday noon that it was probable he would go to the camp in the afternoon to confer with Deputy Sheriff Bodie Martin, who has been assisting in the search, and with camp officials and others.

Folsom prison employees who returned Tuesday evening from Camp Sacramento where they had taken bloodhounds earlier in the day, reported that the trail led from the sand box where the boy was last seen at play on Monday morning, to a large rock on the river's edge. It was said that the trail was traced and re-traced.

Those in charge were reluctant to express any conclusions on Wednesday although there were some who admitted that the possibility of the boy's having drowned was indicated.

Meanwhile, authorities were checking on the ownership and the whereabouts of the owner of an apartment house at N. Y. (Continued on Page Three)

29 Charged In Revolt Plot

Federal Warrants Issued
For Defendants At N. Y.,
Minneapolis, St. Paul

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., (UP)—U. S. marshals began a roundup today of 29 persons accused in a federal grand jury indictment of conspiring to overthrow the United States government by revolution.

Warrants were issued for defendants in Minneapolis, St. Paul, and New York. All were accused as members of the socialist workers party, Trotskyite branch of the communist movement. Twenty-one defendants are members of a congress of industrial organization union—general drivers' local 544 which last month bolted the American Federation of Labor and obtained a CIO charter.

Frank Barnhart, regional director of the United Construction Workers organizing committee, with which CIO-544 is affiliated, announced that national CIO officers had promised to provide bond for release of union members after their arraignments which may be held today.

The executive board of CIO-544 asserted the indictment was part of a campaign to smear the CIO and disrupt its campaign to organize truck drivers.

The indictment returned in St. Paul yesterday charged the defendants had organized a pattern for revolution, including plans to seize key positions in industry and trade unions and to foment rebellion of enlisted men in the army and navy.

Ethel Caswell is plaintiff in a suit for divorce from Wallace Caswell, on file Wednesday in Superior Court. The complaint says the pair wed September 8, 1935, at Jackson, separated July 2, last, and charges extreme cruelty.

Senators Sign Oath of Loyalty to Get Pay

Under a new appropriations act stipulating that none of the money in the bill shall go to pay the salary or wages of any person advocating overthrow of the government, United States Senators must sign an oath of loyalty before they can draw their pay. Oco Thompson, senate financial clerk, is shown taking the affidavits of Senators Styles Bridges (center) of New Hampshire and Chandler Gurney of South Dakota.

Goering, No. 2 Nazi, In "Doghouse"

LONDON, (UP)—Reports spread today that Field Marshal Hermann Goering, Nazi No. 2, was in disgrace in Germany after quarreling with Adolf Hitler over the German war on Russia.

Die Zeitung, anti-Nazi German language newspaper published in Britain, asserted that the reports were correct.

Goering was said to have urged Hitler to build up air strategy on the Western Front.

Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, foreign minister, and Heinrich Himmler chief of the Gestapo or secret police were said to have opposed Goering and Hitler was reported to have sided with them.

Goering resigned his command of the air force according to Die Zeitung and Hitler assumed control of it naming Field Marshal Erhard Milch his commander in chief.

It was added that Goering had retired to his country home Karin Hall and that the estate was cordoned by Gestapo men.

OLD ALUMINUM DRIVE BEGINS

Placerville Booth Set Up;
Legion Appoints Chairmen
For Rural Communities

The campaign for the collection of old aluminum for use in the national defense program took an active form Wednesday morning as a bin for the collection of old pots and pans was set up in Placerville, and chairmen for the movement in the rural communities of the county were named.

The campaign is sponsored by El Dorado Post No. 119, American Legion, with L. J. Anderson and Frank Richards as chairmen for Placerville.

A large bin, fashioned of chicken wire, has been set up on Main Street adjoining Mr. Anderson's office opposite the bell tower, to receive the old aluminum which residents of Placerville and vicinity may contribute.

Cecil A. Barker, commander of the American Legion post, announced that E. W. Sturtevant is the chairman for the campaign at Kelsey; Carl Maurer for Coloma and Lotus; D. Soderetti, for Shingle Springs; Don Hook for Camino and vicinity; George Morgan, for Georgetown; Chester Johnson for Diamond Springs, Charles Possati, of Smith Flat, and Joe Bartell, for El Dorado.

Mr. Bartell has volunteered to assist the American Legion in the campaign in the El Dorado vicinity, where he operates the Standard Oil service station.

BERNARD BALL "TOP KICK" AS JOHNSON WINS GOLD BAR

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ball will share with them their delight at receiving word from their son Bernard "Jim" Ball that he has been advanced to be First Sergeant of Company D, 115th Engineers, at Camp San Luis Obispo.

The opportunity for "Jim" to move up in the Army scale came when the very capable First Sergeant Johnson was commissioned a Second Lieutenant.

In this connection, it will be recalled that several weeks ago Second Lieutenant Jack Berry was advanced to the rank of First Lieutenant. Berry, although an El Dorado County man, is assigned to another company at this time.

Expelled Axis Envoys Embark

Sailing Of Naval Transport
Delayed Pending Arrival
Of Three More Passengers

NEW YORK, (UP)—The naval transport West Point, with nearly 500 expelled German and Italian consular officials and propagandists aboard, lay at anchor in New York harbor today awaiting the arrival of three more passengers whose names were not disclosed.

Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, former consul-general at San Francisco, and his extensive baggage, comprising files of his consulate, was carefully "checked" by officials while the West Point waited.

The nature of the "check" was not revealed but it took hours in the privacy of a Hudson river pier.

The confidential files were sufficiently important to the German government to transport them across the continent by express airplane, at a cost of approximately $10,000.

Constable Gilbert Cook was a caller Wednesday from Georgetown. Marilyn Rupley Payne returned to her work Wednesday at the Cash Mercantile Store following an absence from duties owing to a sore throat.

Mrs. Ruth Cook, mother of Mrs. Ed. Willis, of this city, who underwent an operation recently at Modesto, is reported as convalescing satisfactorily.

FUGITIVE'S TRAIL LEADS TO SOUTH SIDE OF COUNTY, POSSE REPORTS

Worley McMurray Said To Have Been Seen
Early Tuesday In Familiar Haunts
Following Saturday Hospital Escape

Worley McMurray, bandit suspect who gained freedom at least temporarily in an escape from custody at Placerville Sanatorium last Saturday evening, is believed still to be in El Dorado County.

The sheriff's office admitted Wednesday that McMurray had been seen early Tuesday morning in the general vicinity in which he was captured with Ray Vincent a week ago today.

Acting upon this information, the sheriff's office had blanketed the general vicinity with officers Tuesday night in an effort to apprehend McMurray should he attempt to move by night as he seemed to have been doing, but without success.

McMurray had escaped from custody on Saturday evening. Arrested with Ray Vincent early Wednesday of last week, in connection with a reign of terror during the Fourth of July weekend, he had been removed Thursday of last week to Placerville Sanatorium for x-ray examination when he appeared to be for several hours in a semi-conscious state.

The sheriff assigned Andy Hawes, of Georgetown, to guard the prisoner and while Hawes was at dinner Saturday evening, McMurray broke the bonds which fastened him to his bed and jumped from the window of his first floor hospital room.

The search for him during the weekend failed of results and efforts to track the fugitive with bloodhounds led to an end of the trail in the vicinity of the C. E. Cribbs place, west of the city limits.

Whether McMurray could have slipped through the net that was cast for him Tuesday, or whether he is concealed somewhere in the vicinity was a moot question on Wednesday.

By UNITED PRESS
Russian counter-attacks, possibly the greatest of the 25 day old war, appeared to be in progress today on the vital fronts protecting routes to Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev.

For the first time since the opening of its offensive the German high command took cognizance of Soviet counter assaults but insisted that the Red army had been defeated with "bloody losses."

However, the Russian and German communiques offered one of their rare instances of comparative agreement on the point of the counter attacks which also were emphasized by Moscow's report on the front line fighting.

The Far Eastern situation appeared to be moving again toward the crisis stage.

The Japanese were believed to be submitting stiff demands to French Indo China, possibly under threat of forceful intervention if their demands probably for control of the important Camranh naval base and most of the rest of the country, are not granted.

The Japanese also were maintaining at least a tactical threat against the Russians in Siberia and were reported to have protested American treatment of three Japanese merchant vessels. At Manila the entrance to the harbor was sown with live mines as a precautionary measure and restrictions placed on shipping movements.

The British carried out another big bombing attack on the Ruhr, centering on Duisburg. Vichy indicated that differences have arisen between Gen. Maxime Weygand and Admiral Jean Abrial, governor of Algeria and that Abrial would be withdrawn.

The Pussy Cats: Florence Donnel, Barbara McKee and Ethel Raffetto also took the first and third games in their series with the Wild Cats: Adele Landis, Isaden Murray and Doris Wade. Cat calls from the gallery were barred during this match.

Arrangements are complete for the bowlers supper dance at Hotel Raffles Thursday evening, the committee in charge reports.

TANK TRUCK CONCERN BRINGS SUIT FOR DAMAGES LAID TO CATTLE ON HIGHWAY

C. M. Cerati, Clarence Lewis and Gene Jacinto are co-plaintiffs against Joseph Joeger and three "Doe" defendants in an action for damages on file Wednesday morning in Superior Court.

The complaint recites that on April 1, last, a tank truck and trailer owned by the plaintiffs ran into cattle on the highway near Clarksville, allegedly owned by the defendant, and because thereof was damaged in the amount of $397.24, allegedly as a result of the defendant's negligence in supervising the cattle.

The amount prayed for included $75 per day for three days, said to be the value of the services of the truck and trailer which the plaintiffs claim they lost for that length of time as a result of the incident.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ward returned Monday from a weekend visit at San Francisco.

Friends were learning during the week of the marriage at Carson City on July 4 of A. W. Wilson, chemist for the Diamond Springs Lime Company, and Mary Lee Dieterle, of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are making their home in Placerville.

Mr. Wilson has been active in the El Dorado County Red Cross chapter and is official scorer for the county softball association and has a wide acquaintance in the county.

We join his many friends in offering congratulations and our good wishes.

Paid ESCORT
by NELLY GRAF
Copr. 1938 by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

Robin Godine, rich society girl, falls in love with Cary Craig, a poor young man who is paying his way through medical school by working evenings for an escort bureau. Robin hires him to take her out every Wednesday and Sunday evening, but is exasperated when he persists in showing no romantic interest in her. When she learns that Bettina Bradley, society reporter, who introduced him to her, goes out with him regularly — without having to pay for his company — she furiously breaks her next date with him. Cary confesses to Bettina that he is in love with Robin, but says that her wealth places her so far out of his reach that he is determined never to let her know how he feels.

CHAPTER VIII

ROBIN, seated before her mirror, was putting a last touch of scarlet on her lips. It had been three weeks since she had seen Cary. She had continued to send a check every week to the escort bureau, to fulfill her contract, but whenever Cary had called for her, she had been "out."

Tonight, however, she was going to see him. She had reached this decision when she had learned from Bettina yesterday that he had been "consoling" himself with Bettina's company on Wednesday and Sunday evenings. Such consolation was not to Robin's liking. It was a quarter to eight now. He would soon be here.

There came a knock on her door. When she called "Come!" her father entered.

"I hope this isn't a bad time for a talk with you," he began, sitting down on the chaise longue.

"It happens that I am — am in love with Cary Craig."

Her father stared at her silently. Then, he rose and began to pace the floor. Finally, he stopped before her and put his hand under her chin.

"You can't be," he said earnestly. "You just imagine you are. And I want you to stop this nonsense of hiring him as an escort."

"How did you know about it?" Robin flared.

"My secretary, in checking your bank balance, called my attention to the checks you've been sending to the escort bureau. Naturally I investigated. You've got to stop it!"

Robin rose and faced her father. Her chin up.

"You can't make me!" she said fiercely.

Then, suddenly, she gave way to tears.

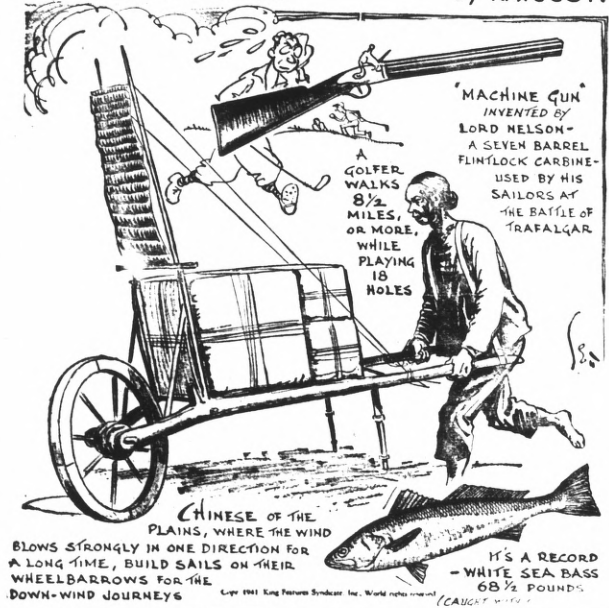

"OH DADDY," she pleaded. "can't you see how important this is to me? I do love Cary — terribly! But he — he — well, he doesn't like me well enough to take me out and so — so — I have to hire him and —"

Sobbing, she buried her face on her father's shoulder.

"He — he's the grandest person in the world, b-b-but he thinks I'm t-terrible! And I'm not! And I want to m-make him see that I'm not! And the only way I can do it is by g-going out with him. Please don't be mean!"

How a Mother of Babies Manages Without Help

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

Some young mothers amaze me at what they can get done and all the while be so sweet, serene and calm. For some months I have been able to observe a pair of young parents of two children 3 years old and 8 months old respectively. Of course, the father is very cooperative and does his part in caring for these children.

They have a rural store and post office. She often helps in that store. She has no domestic help. She does her own washing and ironing, cleaning, cooking and caring for the babies.

She and her house always look tidy. I have never seen her ruffled nor jittery. She seems to have poise in the superlative. Her children are about the happiest and best brought up I have seen. You and I know other mothers like her and we have to wonder what the secret is. I have a notion most of it is in poise and self-control.

A mother who can't understand why I want fathers to do so much in bringing up the baby and caring for the home amazes me at what she accomplishes. She writes: "Your column is a delight to me and I always read it after breakfast. It has given me much encouragement."

Another Mother's Story
"However, I must admit that it makes me smile when I read how these husbands must help their wives with the household chores and babies. My husband works ten hours a day and more (a white collar job, at that). We cannot afford help as we are trying to pay off our home and our income is not too large."

"We are on a strict budget and try to eat properly and live right. We have only one boy 11 months old. We have a garden 100 by 100 feet and I help my husband plant and he helps me with my flower beds."

Hunt For Boy Intensified

parently abandoned truck. County officials said that the whereabouts of the owner of the truck were being checked but said that it was merely the routine of running down every possible clue.

Until something definite linking the truck with the disappearance of the boy was found, they indicated, the identity of the truck owner would not be publicly revealed.

Attention was directed to the truck Tuesday evening when it was found a short distance above Sayles Flat, near the camp site. It was then recalled that the same truck had been seen stalled on the highway opposite the camp at about the time the boy disappeared.

It was reported from the camp Tuesday evening that the boy's mother is reluctant to accept the conclusion that he could have fallen into the river. Rather, she feels that the baby is alive and that he has been taken in, by someone in the vicinity or by some passer-by.

Wednesday morning a crew of twenty CCC enrollees from Camp Caldor, with four foremen, joined in the search.

A DRESSY light weight coat that is just right for wear over summer sheers and crepes is very important for the girl who gets about in town a great deal. A wide set-in belt buttons in back. One large smoky pearl button fastens the coat in front. White pique is used at the wide cuff and for the forward thrusting underneath collar.

Household Hint

For the best laundering results the soap and water should be in the right proportions. When washing by hand it is fairly easy to judge the liveliness and effectiveness of the suds, for the wash is always in sight. Washing machine manufacturers have made it equally simple to tell when the solution has reached the best stage. Start with a cupful of soap for each load, they advise, then churn up the suds before adding the clothes. Keep adding more soap to the churning mixture until two or three inches of thick suds have formed. In washers which churn the suds below the surface the thick soapy feel of the solution will indicate when the suds are sufficiently abundant.
